Prof creates PT scholarship

A Clifton Springs, N.Y. woman has been named this year's established Griffin Physical Therapy Scholarship, for excellence in academic achievement.

Mary Lynne Wood, a senior in physical therapy, is the first recipient of the scholarship. The scholarship is awarded by the Department of Physical Therapy, which has established the Scholarship Program to attract students who have demonstrated academic excellence and are committed to a career in physical therapy.

Wood, who is majoring in physical therapy and minor in psychology, is currently ranked third in her class. She has been a member of the National Honor Society and has served as a teaching assistant for the Department of Physical Therapy. She plans to continue her studies at the University of Rochester and pursue a career in physical therapy.

Wood expressed her gratitude for the scholarship, stating that it will enable her to focus on her studies and continue her efforts to achieve academic excellence.

The scholarship is a testament to the University's commitment to excellence in education and its dedication to providing students with the resources they need to succeed. With this scholarship, Wood is one step closer to realizing her goals and pursuing a successful career in physical therapy.
